Golden Q Team Award Application

Description

The "Golden Q Award" recognizes a Cobb & Douglas Public Health (CDPH) team who has achieved significant and positive results through quality improvement efforts.
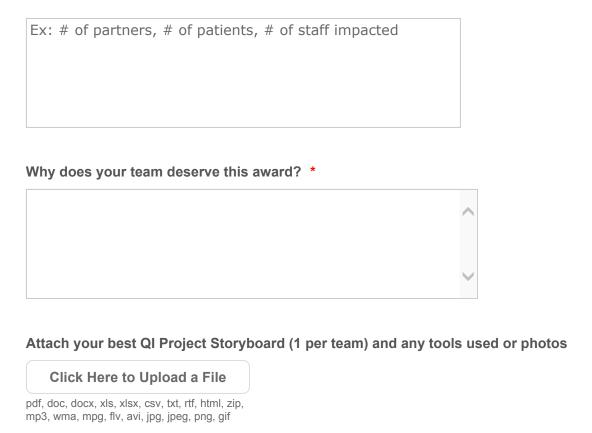

Selection

Nominations will be reviewed by the Quality Council. One team will be selected and recognized for the award during the nomination year (April-March). The award will be presented at the Annual CDPH Conference in May.

Eligibility

Any group of CDPH employees that have actively worked together to improve a process are eligible to be a part of the team considered for this award. QI project teams consist of multidisciplinary individuals who actively work together to improve a shared process. This award recognizes collaborative teams that have completed robust projects resulting in significant and sustainable process improvements. Scoring will be based on the following weighted criteria, which must be reflected on the QI project storyboard (if applicable). Scoring guide is available on page 2. 1) Percentage of improvement from baseline data to post-data (Results) 2) Use of QI tools in addition to the PDSA framework 3) Number of PDSA cycles and/or projects conducted 4) Amount of money saved and/or generated for the agency (directly or indirectly)
